

The United States of America: where easy video games come from.

This module displays a display which shows the start and end states of the maze and the state you are currently at in the maze. Use the map and the abbreviation table below to find the correct path. Use the shapes to the module to cross boundaries between adjacent states. If you pressed a shape that is not on the border of the state you are currently at, a strike will be recorded.

Pressing any button when starting from Alaska or Hawaii will fly you another random state. If Alaska and Hawaii are the origin and destination press any button to fly to the other state.
